The Zenith El Primero is the best automatic chronograph caliber ever made. That's a bold claim, but I stand by it. The El Primero outlasted it's competition from 1969, was resurrected in 1986 and today it is the defining movement of Zenith.

A History of the El Primero Movement — Timepiece Chronicle

Current top models from Zenith using the El Primero caliber have skeletonized movements with a tourbillon and are made of ceramic or rose gold. If the skeletonized movement isn't a requirement for you, you can go for an El Primero Tourbillon instead.

Zenith - Chronomaster Collection by Zenith Watches

The Zenith El Primero Chronomaster collection is comprised of many timepieces with different designs, all tied together by their common use of the famous El Primero caliber. The movement was first introduced in 1969, though its development began in 1962. It made history as the first integrated, automatic chronograph caliber. Other manufacturers took advantage of this caliber: Rolex modified it ...
